

Athos Table & Bench Set A150

The Athos collection of tables and benches expresses architectural simplicity and offers a timeless foundation for contemporary spaces.

Its flattened aluminium surfaces and stepped ends create a rhythmic profile, echoing the ascent of a cliffside. Each piece rests over softened, ovular profiles, giving the collection a calm, structured presence.

Designed for versatility, the tables feature an interchangeable leg system that allows effortless conversion to a bar-height configuration.

With its durable materials, Athos suits commercial and communal public space environments.
