

Classica Booth

The Classica draws inspiration from antiquated European pieces, reinvented in a contemporary light.

Used traditionally by Swedish, French and British throughout history, the brass studding of the Classica's edges is reminiscent of its roots and provides a unique finishing touch. The timber framing is fully upholstered except for exposed feet, which can be stained to complement the selected finish. Best utilised in back-to-back configurations, where its detailed side profile can be seen.
