

SANTORINI BOOTH

The Santorini booth is a staple channeling European influence through its soft, natural-look materials.

The streamlined upholstery of the Santorini closely hugs its natural timber framing, appearing as an almost seamless extension. A slightly angled backrest permits a more comfortable form. The open design of the base allows it to stand proudly and blend without the visual sacrifice of space.

How it works

Create a truly unique interior for your space through our custom booth and banquette manufacturing process, where we will assist you in finding the perfect seating solution. Each design carries specific unit lengths, which can be lengthened and customised to suit any application.

To get started, we'll need to know:

- Your selected booth style;
- The intended seating capacity/configuration of the space;
- Your personal touches, selected from available upholstery and framing finishes (see below).

Standard unit dimensions

Height 900 mm Depth 600 mm Unit length Custom Seat height 450 mm

Santorini was originally inhabited before 2000BC. The island was known as strongili, meaning round, because of its shape. The chapel of Saint Irini dominated the island, from which the name Santorini evolved.

The eruption of the volcano in 1500BC destroyed the island causing the centre of it to sink. Some historians consider Santorini as the lost Atlantis. The explosion left a caldera of high cliffs, one of the world's most geographic spectacles and largest in the world.

Santorini is one of the most popular tourist destinations.
