Towards the Essence: Designers and Craftsmanship at Lyxo

In the refined interplay of design, the artistic intellect of our designers merges with Lyxo's manufacturing expertise. Our furniture pieces are the fruit of resonant collaborations with globally renowned designers, who leave their distinctive and visionary imprint on our collections. Each designer brings their artistic sensibility and experience, creating unique pieces that sublimates the essence of the Lyxo brand.

Creating without compromising: Lyxo sustainability.

There's no beauty without responsibility. We too want the Earth to preserve its green soul. Behind every raw material, every production process, every gesture is the certainty of operating in harmony with nature and culture. Lyxo is sustainability with objects made to last, not only thanks to 100% recyclable materials and high-quality technologies that make them resistant and durable, but also thanks to timeless designs that promote more conscious, waste-free consumption.

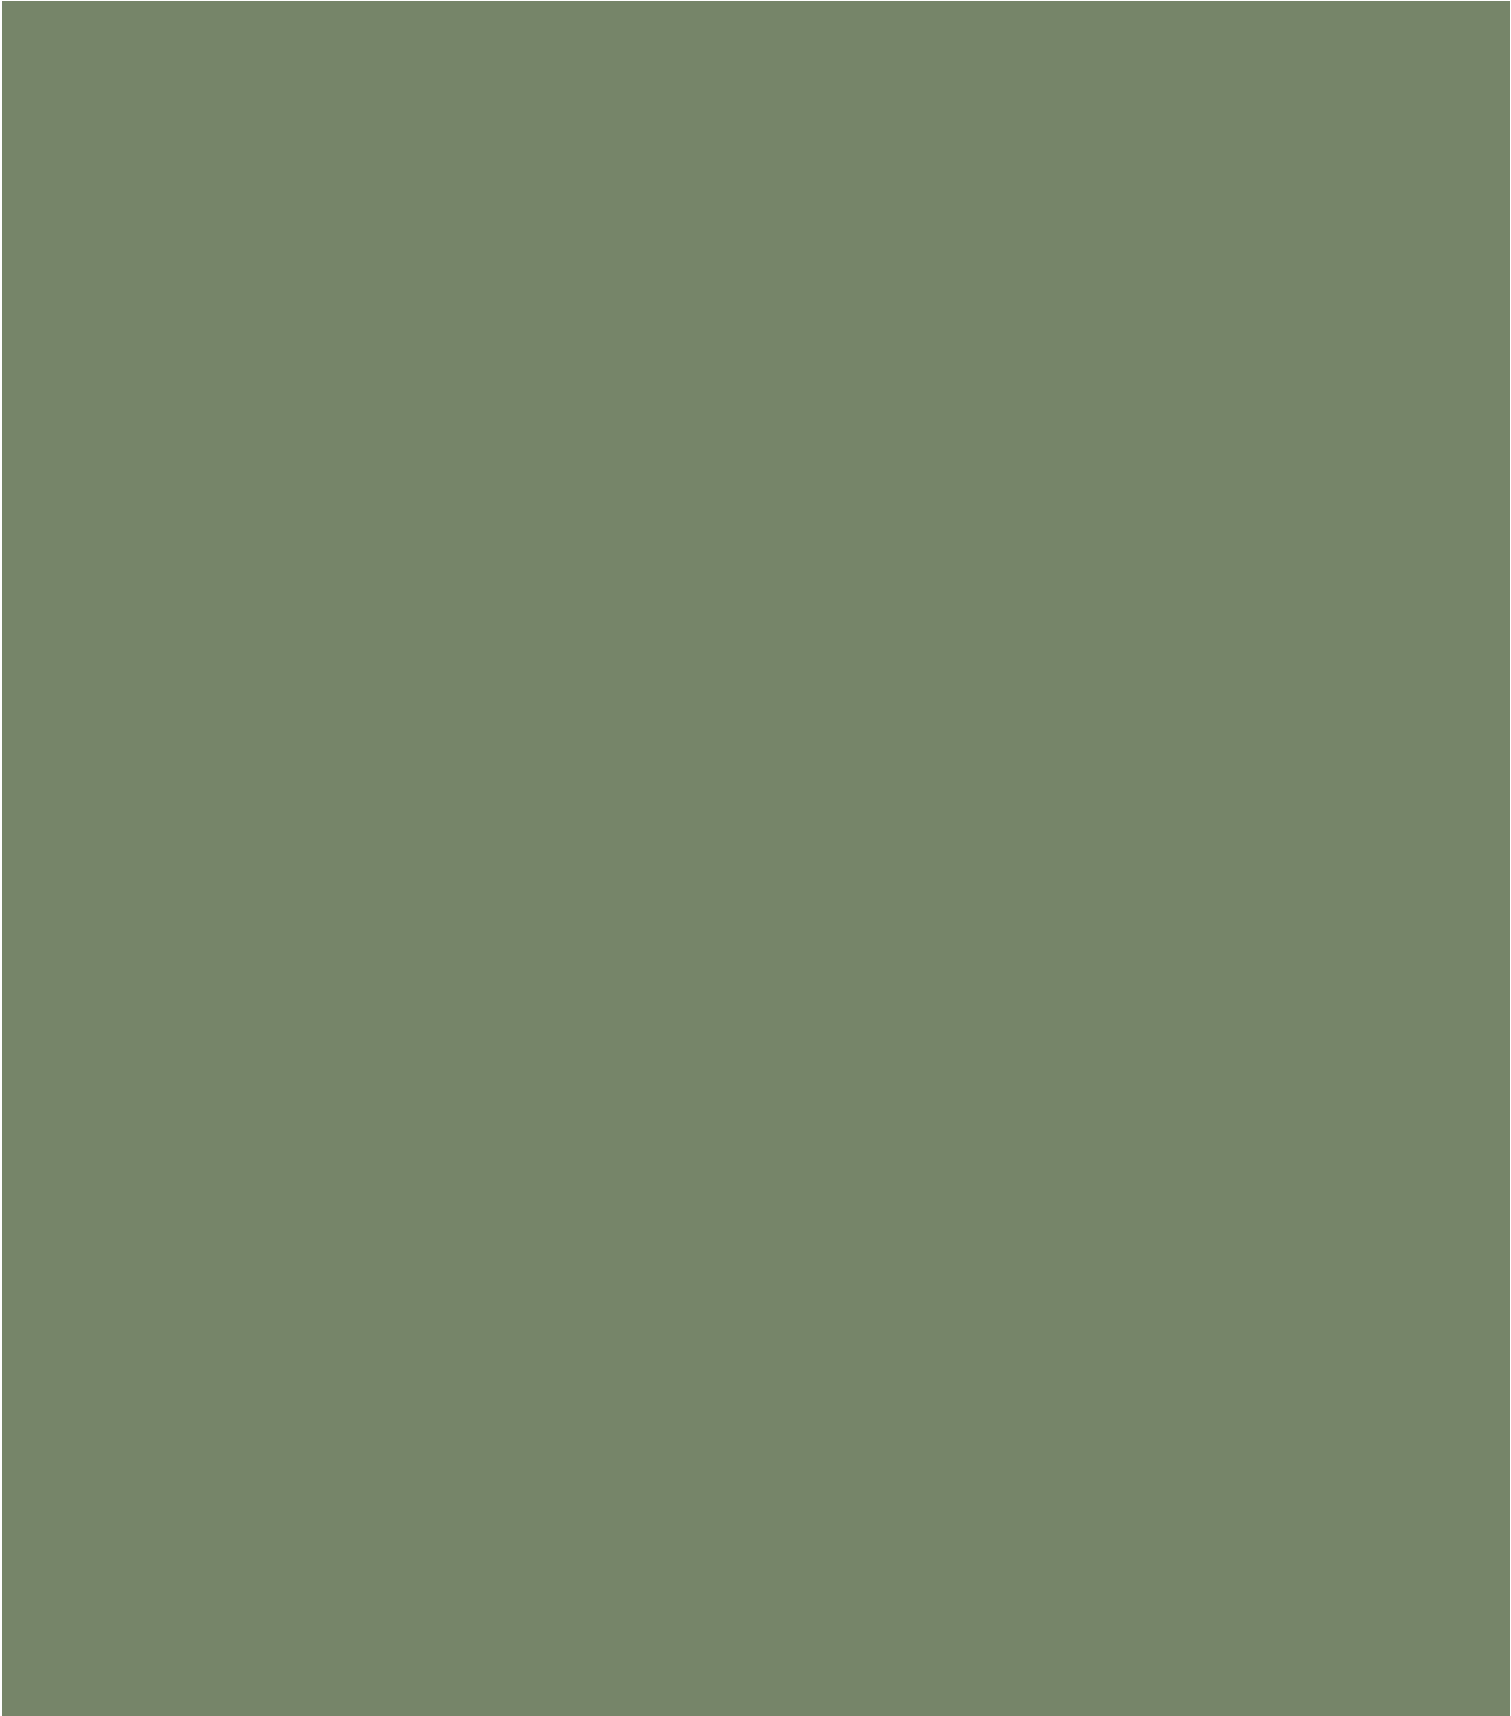

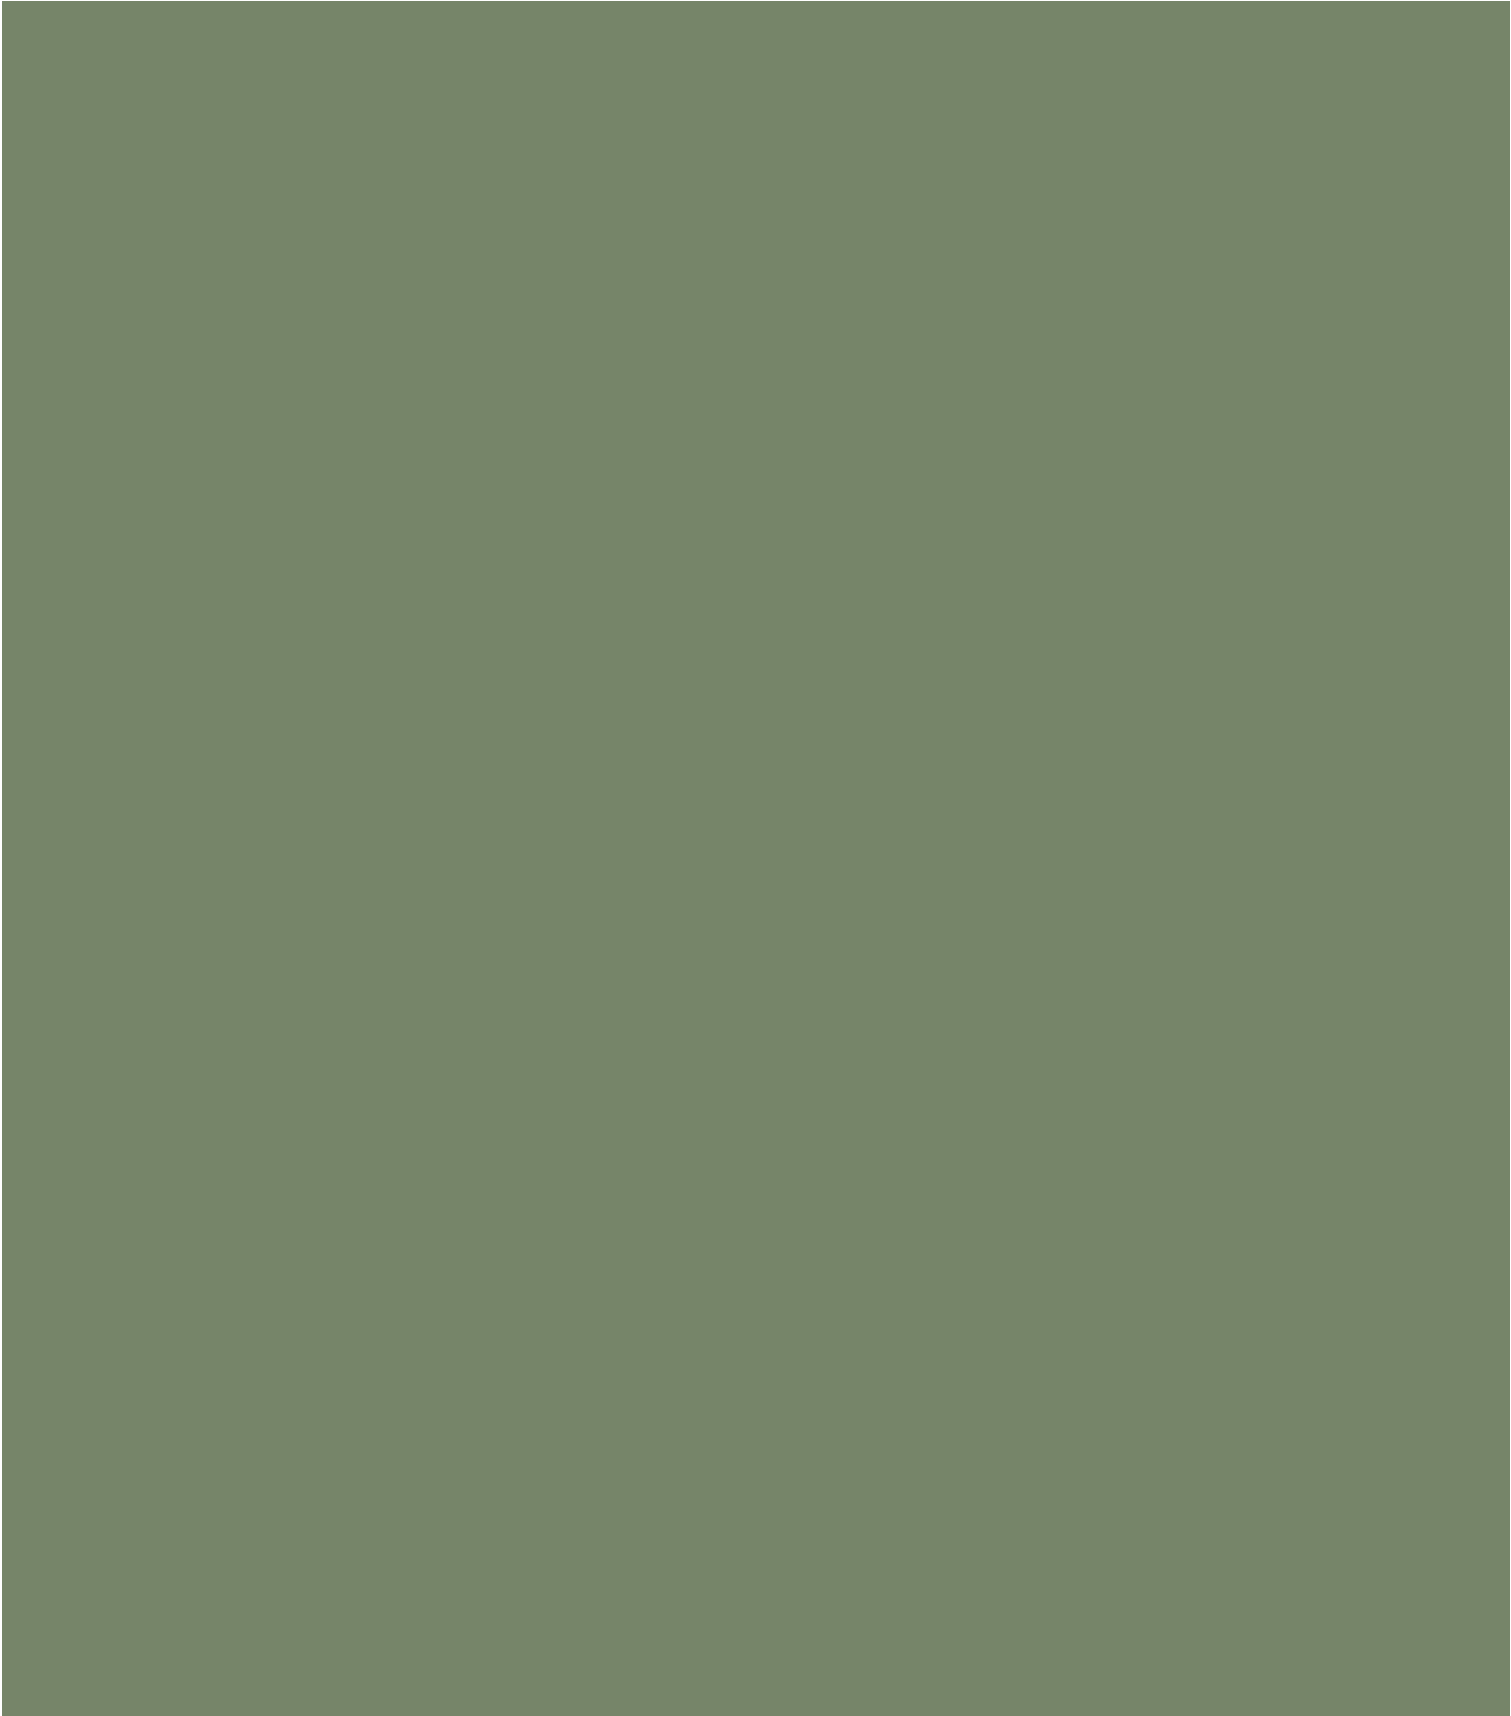

PLASTIC MATERIALS

At Lyxo, we reduce our environmental impact by using high-quality plastic. Through partnerships and research, we select materials that guarantee durability and aesthetics. Even when products reach the end of their useful life, or if they have manufacturing defects, they are shredded and transformed back into polyethylene powder to create new products, because we only use 100% recyclable plastic.

PRODUCTION PROCESS

Our production, logistics, and management processes are guided by a rigorous sustainability philosophy. The water used in our plants is completely free of contamination, while the production of our products has no negative impact on air quality: the powders are melted without direct contact with flames or heat sources, ensuring the absence of harmful gas or fume emissions. We are proud to have achieved the important milestone of using 100% renewable energy.
